

[2] Ash x Tony EN

Day X: Tony (The Frankenstein)

[SCENE START]

Tony: (bursts in) Meh, screw this! I was rushing home and there was that old man in his stupid brown jacket and that damn cane! There was no space to overtake him properly and I was given a choice: either I go offroad through that grass on the left, or I go to the right through a sand pit.

Tony: It looked really tiny and I thought it would not make any difference... I could have just waited but my ego pushed me to increase speed and go through sand. As you can clearly see, it did not end well. I acknowledge the fact I'm a blithering idiot and a rate-A1 oceangoing pillock, and now I need a new bike that would CRUSH the man or go through anything, including sand.

[PLAYER CHOICES]

- [Option A]: Ask about his physical parameters to assess the damage scale.
- [Option B]: Silently agree to build the bike. (Wrong)

If Option A:

Ash: Ohh..rawr. Brrr! Well, shit happens, mate. What are your physical parameters?

Tony: 190/125. I'm a heavy ass man.

Ash: I see. We're talking e-bikes at this point unless you want to break your ankles.

Tony: I certainly do not. E-bike sounds great. See, there was that Kaigu Ronin V8...

[PLAYER CHOICES]

- [Option A]: Place an order for the Kaigu. (Wrong)
- [Option B]: Interrupt him! The Kaigu won't survive him!

If Option B:

Ash: (interrupts him) MATE NO! That thing is tiny! Look, there's one outside. You'd look like a circus bear riding a monobike.

Tony: (looking, analysing) Aww. It looked much bigger in the pictures on the Internet. And I see that suspension... not looking too great. Damn. You do customs?

Ash: Of course! Anything you can imagine.

Tony: Then build something that would be fast, comfortable, electric and not too expensive. Now I gotta leave and wash that jacket. Goddamn old man...Cya tomorrow.

[ENTER WORKSHOP UI]

Day X+1: The Delivery (Result)

Tony: Hey there, dog! What's up with that bike?

Ash: Yooo! There it is.

Tony: Can I test drive it?

Ash: Nah. Just give me the money and get out of here.

Tony: ...

Ash: Just kidding. Sure.

Tony: Here's the money. If I never come back, I'm either dead or happy with the aggregate. Thanks for your work!

Ash: You are totally welcome.
